

Skill: Analytical Thinking ::Worksheet Number :14

Directions for Questions from 1 to 5: Arjun, Bhim and Nakul are playing a game. Each player on his turn has to select a month of the year, which has not been selected in the game till now. The game runs for two rounds.

Arjun, Bhim and Nakul have first, second and third turn, respectively. Also, the months selected by a player in two rounds should not be consecutive (Consider December and January as consecutive months).

1 - Which of these months can Bhim select possibly?

- a) February and March
- b) December and January
- c) April and June
- d) None of these

2 - If Arjun has selected months of February and April, then which of these can be the selections of Nakul?

- a) February and July
- b) September and December
- c) October and November
- d) April and June

3 - Arjun wants to select the months that have 31 days. Which of these selections will be invalid?

- a) July and August
- b) October and December
- c) January and March
- d) July and March

4 - Nakul wants to select the months that have different number of days. Which of these pair of months cannot be selected by him?

- a) October and November
- b) January and April
- c) June and March
- d) September and March

5 - One of the months selected by Bhim has some number of days, such that nobody else can select another month that has same number of days. Which of these cannot be the other month selected by Bhim?

- a) March
- b) January
- c) Both option A and option B
- d) None of these

6 - Five friends A, B, C, D and E took part in a race. A finished before B, but behind C. D finished before E but after B.

Who won the race?

- a) A
- b) B
- c) C
- d) D

7 - From which of the given options, can we understand that: It takes five minutes to bake a bread?

- a) Breads get baked fast
- b) In half an hour, six breads can be baked individually
- c) Breads are soft when fresh
- d) None of these

8 - Not every one is strong. Which of these statements gives the same information as the given statement?

- a) Someone is not strong
- b) All are strong
- c) Nobody is strong
- d) None of these

9 -

Which image will come in place of ?

10 -

What will come in place of the question mark?

